Mrs. Anna Scott Block Starts Movement to Clear Debt on Continental Hall.

COUNTRY-WIDE CAMPAIGN IS NOW IN PROGRESS

Penny Daily from 71,000 Active Members for One Year Will Net $260,000.

A country-wide campaign is now in progress to raise funds to liquidate the debt on Memorial Continental Hall, regarded as the most beautiful and costly building ever erected by women for patriotic purposes. The movement is within the ranks of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, and each member is urged to pledge to contribute 1 cent a day for one year. In the organization are 71,000 active members, and a penny a day from each will net $260,000 in the year.

Memorial Continental Hall was erected at a cost of $67,517.91, and the debt remaining is $170,000. It is expected that this will be cleared with a substantial balance left for the creation of a permanent fund.

To Mrs. Anna Scott Block, wife of Col. Willard T. Block, is given credit for this novel plan now being carried out. She suggested the penny-a-day campaign at a meeting of the continental hall committee in April of this year, and her suggestion, embodied in a resolution, was adopted at the annual congress held in Washington later in the same month.

Offered Certificate Plan.
Mrs. Block's activities in the liquidation of the debt were confined to this plan. At the national congress of the organization in 1911, she offered what is known as the Block certificate plan for paying off the debt and establishing a permanent fund. In effect, it was the designing of beautiful and artistic certificates that could be sold at 11 apiece to every daughter and descendant. Her plan was so simple and at the same time effective that it was unanimously adopted by the congress, and Mrs. Block was appointed chairman of a committee to carry out the idea.

In her report to the continental hall committee last month, Mrs. Block presented the following suggestions:
Total disbursements on the building and its furnishings were $67,517.91. The present debt is approximately $170,000. The certificate being sold under Mrs. Block's plan is printed on fine paper, 14 by 11 inches, and shows in their proper colors the seals of the thirteen original States, the colonial flags and the insignia and seal of the society. In the center of the certificate is a reproduction of the Memorial Continental Hall in fine engraved making the certificate a beautiful and artistic heirloom.
Space is provided under the engraving of the hall for the signature of the holder, and blocks are indicated for the transfer of the certificates to five succeeding generations, providing authentic proof of descent from a revolutionary hero.

Price is $1 Apiece.
The price of the certificate is $1 and in addition five cents for mailing. Seventy-five cents from each certificate will be applied to the indebtedness. The remaining twenty-five cents will be used to pay for the printed certificate, all printed matter and stationery, stenographic and clerical work and expert penmen, who will write the name of each daughter, her national number and also the names of four ancestors.

"To issue 100,000 certificates," said Mrs. Block in a circular issued recently, "will cost $25,000. It is not my intention to retain the entire $25,000 from first sales, but when a certificate is sold I will retain twenty-five cents and pay five cents national indebtedness seventy-five cents. Whenever 7,000 certificates are disposed of I will retain twenty-five cents per copy, or $1,750, for expense, as previously set forth, and the society will receive seventy-five cents each, or $5,250, to pay one note and interest, as the trust company permits the payment of $5,000 at any time."

"If all national officers, State and chapter regents and delegates pledge themselves to contribute one penny a day for one year, and through above means secure pledges from all members, this will create a fund sufficient not only to pay the national indebtedness, but a substantial sum for the endowment fund, and each daughter will receive three certificates of descent."

Penny-a-day Idea.
Mrs. Block's penny-a-day plan met with hearty approval throughout the organization. In commenting upon it, Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, regent of the District, said:
"I want to ask every State regent to forward this movement. A penny a day, sometimes when you have to take a car, walk instead, and put aside five cents, and that will save five cents. Put it in. That penny a day would pay off this debt. I think that it is one of the best propositions that has been made. The State regents or Mrs. Scott cannot carry that on. It must be done through the States, getting as many as you can to subscribe to it, and when you come back here next year you won't have any debt on this place. But I want to tell you one thing more. If I want not this or the last administration, it was not the administration before that put a debt on this building; the debt was put on when we agreed to build a building."

After the plan had been fully explained the congress adopted the following resolution:
"Resolved, That all members be asked to pledge themselves to pay one penny a day for one year, for which they will receive their certificates of descent, properly engrossed and recorded; and that each State regent be or appoint a member of the liquidation and endowment committee and through the chapter committees secure the above pledge, and that Mrs. James M. Fowler be appointed by the president general chairman of the above committee, who will transmit to the chairman of the liquidation and endowment fund committee, Mrs. William T. Block, all orders, who will reduce the debt from time to time whenever funds aggregating $500 are available. Full report is to be made to the twenty-second congress."

A statement of receipts and disbursements from November, 1910, until August, 1911, shows that contributions from chapters for the erection of the hall amounted to $254,062.47, and from individuals $71,252.13.

CATHOLICS OPEN WAR ON SOCIALISM

Aloysius Truth Society to Publish Weekly Magazine Combating Socialistic Doctrines.

HAVE PROTESTANT SUPPORT

Open war on the tenets of socialism has been declared by the Aloysius Truth Society, an organization composed of the most prominent ecclesiastics and laymen of the Catholic Church in the Capital.

From the headquarters of the society in Georgetown University a statement has been issued declaring that socialism is the most important consideration of the day, and that the material structure of the church throughout the world is standing "on the crumbling brink of disaster" as a result of the world-wide socialist agitation.

The principal weapon to be used in combating the spread of socialism will be a weekly magazine called "The Aloysius," which is published in New York City under direction of an editorial staff composed of Catholics and non-Catholics, under the name of the Social Reform Press. The officers are as follows: David P. Neke, president; Thomas R. Longman, secretary; and John R. Meador, treasurer.

Support of All Creeds.
Catholic leaders say they have the hearty support of all creeds, and that all Christian denominations are arrayed against socialism. One leading socialistic organ is quoted as declaring its hostility to "Roman Catholics, Episcopals, Methodists, Presbyterians, Lutherans, and all religious creeds."

Rev. Augustus J. Duarte, S. J., president of the society and vice president of Georgetown University, in explaining the attitude of the church toward socialism yesterday, said:
"Socialism, as set forth and defined by its ablest exponents, is materialistic and atheistic, and opposes the church by attacking religion and the family."
"It is not for her material welfare nor to maintain her temporal structure in the world that the church opposes socialism, but because of her love for the immortal souls of men, for if socialism were ever successful in overturning the institutions of the nation a vast multitude of souls would be swept to perdition."

Miss Stone addressed the members of the association briefly, telling them of all her experiences as a missionary among the mountainous sections of southern Europe and Asia Minor, where she was captured by bandits and held a prisoner for many weeks.

WHEN IS POKER NOT POKER?

Question Will Be Decided in Police Court This Morning.

When is poker not poker? This problem will be thrashed out in Police Court this morning, when Harry D. Young, who conducts a barber shop at 126 E Street Northwest, will be arraigned on a charge of permitting gambling on his premises. Young was arrested Saturday when the police of the First Precinct made a raid on the back room of his place.

Sergt. Lohman and Precinct Detectives Howes and Simpson aver that the players were engaging in a game of poker, and base their charges on the fact that they could hear expressions typical of a poker player before they entered the room, but when they entered they found no chips, money or "lay-out" of any kind.

The score, or tally, was being kept on the cane sort of board as is usually the case at the police stations, and one of the players upbraided the police for interrupting "our sociable game." Young was released on $100 collateral.

INDIAN CHIEFS DRAW ATTENTION

Attired in War Paint and Feathers, Sioux Braves, with Wild West Show, Attracts Crowds.

Seven Indian chiefs, in war paint and feathers, walking along Pennsylvania Avenue and other downtown thoroughfares yesterday afternoon, attracted Sunday afternoon crowds. The seven chiefs were the representatives of the Sioux nation, who are in Washington under the special patronage of Col. Fred Cummins, director general of the Young Buffalo Wild West and Col. Cummins' Indian Congress and Far East show, which pitched its ten acres of tents at Fifteenth and H Streets Northeast yesterday, and will exhibit afternoon and evening, today and to-morrow. The seven chiefs visited several of the public buildings, and also dropped in at the National Press Club, where they were given informal reception by the newspaper men. Some of the writers had known two of the redskins previously, having met them after the Indian uprising at Wounded Knee.

The chiefs were Sitting Bear, Red Shirt, One Feather, Red Star, Eagle Head, Painted Horse, and Eagle Bear. Col. Cummins brought his thirty-six carloads of wild West and far East show into Washington early yesterday morning, and immediately started to transform the vacant space at Fifteenth and H Streets into a tented city. An enormous crowd of people visited the grounds morning and afternoon, and took repeated interest in the herd of long horn cattle and Western horses.

One of the old-time wild West features which has been a by-word with Young America for decades is the Dodge city stage coach and its escape from the Indians. The seven chiefs who attracted so much attention on the streets yesterday lead the charge on the coach from ambush. Something new to Washington will be the long-horned cattle from the African veldt and the Boer rough riders who show how these beasts are herded.

Mexican vaqueros on their peppy little ponies show what sort of equestrian feats are performed south of the Rio Grande, and a hundred or more riders from various countries of Asia will contribute the far East portion of the programme.

Annie Oakley, famous as a rifle shot the world over, is with the show. She has been breaking big game in the woods since she was a child, and for thirty years and claims to be better this year than ever.

A big street parade which will cover the city to the city hall and the circus grounds at 3 o'clock this morning. It will be headed by Col. Cummins, and will include the famous Australian bull whip manipulators, the twenty-oct elephants, camels, and horses. The Russian dancers will take part in the parade, as well as the Western cowboys and cowgirls, Tartars, Cosacks, Cingaleses, Arabs, and others.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND.

Wife of John A. Crall Fears He Is Temporarily Demented.

Missing for more than a week, John A. Crall, thirty-five years old, a carpenter, of Franklin Park, near Great Falls, Md., is believed to be temporarily demented by his wife, who yesterday asked the police to renew their search for the man. Mrs. Crall was almost hysterical when she appeared at police headquarters and made her appeal. She said she married Crall because he was a carpenter, and her union has been happy. She declared Crall was not addicted to drink and admits herself mystified by his disappearance.

CAPITAL MEN ELECTED.

Selected for High Offices in Piano Manufacturers' Association.

E. H. Droop, head of the Droop music house, of this city, speaking of the eleventh annual convention of the Association of Piano Merchants of America, held last week in Atlantic City, upon his return to Washington yesterday, outlined the purpose and achievements of that organization.

The convention discussed, especially, legislation favorable to installment houses and against all forms of unfair advertising. Mr. Droop declared that the organization has conducted a vigorous campaign against misleading advertisements. It has procured the passage of legislation on the subject in Massachusetts and Oregon and hopes to bring about the enactment of Federal laws in the near future. Resolutions were passed to drop from membership any merchant who uses misleading advertisements.

In the election of officers of the association Washington received unusual consideration. Edward H. Droop was elected chairman of the legislative committee, and Carl A. Droop was made treasurer of the organization and Percy S. Foster treasurer. A. J. De Moll is a member of the resolutions committee.

The convention was great success in every way. There was an attractive programme, including a banquet. The next convention will be held in Columbia.

DR. BEDLOE MAY BE COMMISSIONER

Diplomat and Globe Trotter Stands Good Chance of Being Elected to Atlantic City Office.

Dr. Edward Bedloe, diplomat, journalist, and traveler, a great favorite with the newspaper men of Washington, stands an excellent chance of being elected one of the five commissioners who hereafter will govern Atlantic City, that town at a recent election having decided to adopt the commission form of government.

Bedloe, as he is commonly known, is a citizen of Atlantic City, his forefathers having been among the first settlers of Absecon. He was one of the earliest and most consistent advocates of the deepening of Absecon inlet and the improvement of its harbor, and in this connection has always favored the establishment of steamship routes between New York, Baltimore, and Washington and other places and Atlantic City.

At the time the Democratic leaders convened in this city to select a place for the national convention, Dr. Bedloe was most active in his efforts to secure the convention for Atlantic City. Not satisfied with the Democratic convention only, he also tried to capture the Republican meeting.

Having traveled in all parts of the world, where he had every opportunity to study systems of city government and improvements, and being intimately acquainted with American city administrative methods, Dr. Bedloe is regarded by his friends as singularly qualified for the position of one of the commissioners of Atlantic City.

AVIATOR HADLEY PLANS LONG FLIGHT

Proposes to Pilot Christmas Aero with Mail from New York to Capital.

Work on the Christmas plane, invented by Dr. W. W. Christmas, of this city, is being rushed in order to allow for a flight early next week from New York to Washington, with between 100 and 200 pounds of mail.

The flight will be made by Clinton O. Hadley, one of the best known American aviators, who has been signed up for Christmas week at the place of Paul Peck, the Washington aviator, who recently announced his intention of not attempting such a flight until the late summer.

The Christmas plane is at present in New York City, where a new motor is being installed. It is the work of installing the motor which prevented an earlier flight. It is having been the intention of both the owner and aviator to have essayed the 25-mile cross-country flight last week. It is expected that the motor will have been installed by the middle of the week at the latest, and the flight will be attempted as soon as the work is completed.

Aviator Hadley expects to experience no trouble in making the trip, which he believes can be done in the new plane in a little less than five hours. He will start from New York in the early morning, following the Pennsylvania tracks to Baltimore, from which city he will fly over the Baltimore and Ohio tracks to Washington. He expects to land on the White House Ellipse.

ELOPE TO ANNAPOLIS.

The dark secret of an elopement was discovered by Mrs. Ella Brill, of 1229 G Street, who, after a series of investigations, found that her daughter, a telephone operator, had eloped with George P. Huber, of 206 Fourteenth Street, Navy Yard.

The mother did not have any objections to the marriage, which is attested by the fact that the young couple made their home with her, but she suspected because of her daughter's cheerful attitude that she had eloped. She learned that Huber and her daughter both had been absent from their places of employment for a week Saturday afternoon, and when Huber called Sunday night she accused him of marrying her daughter.

The couple blushing admitted that they were married in Annapolis, and will leave to-day for a wedding trip of two weeks' duration at Atlantic City.
